Several Lines of

CARPETS

In pieces of 20 to 50 yards at remnant prices. These are patterns that we shall not carry in our stock next season. This does not mean that the patterns are undesirable; in some instances the mills have stopped making them; in others, the patterns have been only slightly changed, yet it is our intention to carry the newer ones. Among these lots it is easy to get, in a desirable pattern, enough to cover any room—and the prices will certainly show a very substantial saving.

The lots include some lines of Brussels, Tapestries, Velvets, Moquettes and Axminsters. We recommend an early selection.

The Test for Opticians.
From Dr. J. E. Miller.
He-Fuller is very near-sighted. She—but he saw a lady standing in the car when you and the other men appeared not to.
He—Exactly. He couldn't tell rouge and powder from the natural color.
